Redesign Leadership

Service Offering:

Stakeholders in startups include founders, staff, strategic partners, seed investors and venture capital investors. These stakeholders will invariably have different views on culture, style, prospects, business plan execution, funding and exiting. The failure by management to achieve the aims of the stakeholders will lead to disharmony.

Corangamite specializes in the provision of Redesign Leadership teams to address stakeholder needs in early stage businesses.

Experienced corporate leaders with strong financial and operational skills staff each Redesign Leadership team. They take the hard decisions necessary to ensure that the dominant stakeholders retrieve their position and optimize the prospects of the company. With a fresh view of the business, and a strong brief from stakeholders to create change, the Redesign Leadership team can re-engineer the operation quickly and in many cases save a failing business. The Redesign Leadership team will often complete it's work in a 1 to 3 month timeframe.

Team structures are flexible, and are carefully customized to the operation. Industry skills have been primarily been gained in service sectors, with a predominance towards information technology and telecommunications companies.

Fees:

Fee structures for provision of these services are flexible. Customized combinations of consulting fees, success fees and equity participation are available.
